Hurricane Gracie Kills Six; Damage May Reach Millions

CHARLESTON, S. C. (AP) — Hurricane Gracie, its hurricane winds diminished but its torrential rains still dangerous, moved slowly across North Carolina today. The storm caused six deaths and property damage expected to run in the millions of dollars.

The Weather Bureau in the morning summary placed the center of the storm a few miles west of Charlotte, moving northward toward Virginia at about 12 miles an hour.

Gracie's heavy rain was expected to cause flash flooding in western North Carolina, central and western Virginia, the eastern portions of West Virginia, western Maryland and central and eastern Pennsylvania.

The storm now packs winds of about 40 m.p.h., with gusts to about 50 m.p.h. in some squalls.

Gracie ground ashore near here Tuesday morning with 140-mile-an-hour peak winds, torrents of rain and high tides.

She brought rain, raging winds and high water all along the coast from Savannah, Ga., to Myrtle Beach, and swept inland to slash lowland communities along a path 100 miles wide.

traffic accidents attributable to the storm.

At Miami Beach, Fla., a 15-foot wave rolling in from Gracie's wake swept over a jetty Tuesday night and carried a married couple into the water. The body of Elizabeth Rutherford was found by a fishing boat crew but rough seas halted a search for the body of her husband, Jack. Police said Rutherford was presumed dead.

Georgia reported one storm-connected death. Alex Sheffield, 26, was killed when he stepped on a live wire that had been blown down by strong winds Tuesday afternoon at Statesboro, about 50 miles northwest of Savannah.

All over the Carolinas and in border Georgia areas balmy Indian summer dissolved into heavy rain and cool, strong winds. Several inches of rain fell, threatening floods on some rivers.

Meanwhile, another hurricane, Hannah, was being tracked out in the Atlantic. She was located Tuesday night about 1,000 statute miles east of Palm Beach, Fla., with peak winds of 100 miles an hour. A Miami weather forecaster said she, too, likely will hit the mainland a few days from now.

USW - Industry Resume Debate In Washington

Union Heads, Steel Leaders Meet With Ike; Arrange Talks

WASHINGTON (AP)—Renewed talks in the steel strike were set up for this afternoon after President Eisenhower in personal conferences with both sides prodded them to get to work on a settlement.

Eisenhower met separately, first with industry leaders and then with representatives of the striking Steelworkers Union.

David J. McDonald, union president, then called for the renewed negotiations.

Roger M. Blough, U. S. Steel chairman, had said at the close of the management session with the President that the industry was willing to resume talks at any time.

A few minutes after the union delegation left the executive offices, McDonald telephoned the White House that the talks had been arranged.

Just before that word came out Eisenhower issued a statement saying that in view of the mounting impact of the 78-day-old strike on the nation's economy and the consequent unemployment "I sincerely hope that an agreement can be initiated before my return to Washington next week."

The President was due to leave later today for a rest at Palm Springs, Calif. He is due back Oct. 8.

The President's statement said the purpose of his talks today was to help "to bring about a voluntary settlement of the steel strike which will be fair and just to all parties involved, including the public."

Eisenhower was reported on good authority to have used blunt, powerful language both to the management and union delegations—about as strong language as at Monday's news conference when he said he and the American people are sick and tired of the apparent impasse.

But so far as public statements were concerned, the principal opponents showed no signs of shifting position or of confidently expecting quick results.

Asked whether he sees any hope of an agreement soon, McDonald said: "I wish I could say I were optimistic."

Blough's answer to the same question was: "I am not optimistic."

'Iron Age' Says Invoking T-H Act Is Inevitable

NEW YORK (AP)—The magazine Iron Age said today invoking the Taft-Hartley Act to break the steel deadlock is inevitable if today's presidential conference with labor and management fails to bring about an agreement.

Positions on both sides were irreconcilable after last week's breakdown of negotiations, the national metalworking weekly said. The magazine said the president's appeal for a settlement is an implication that he hoped to use his personal prestige to break the deadlock without invoking the T-H law.

But, Iron Age said, federal action now is more or less academic as far as steel supplies are concerned. Steel stocks are less than half what they were when the strike started, the magazine said, and even this is unbalanced by type, size and location.

Study of English Stressed

200 Persons Attend Discussion on Schools

About 200 persons attended a panel discussion of Dr. James B. Conant's report, "The American High School Today" at the YWCA auditorium Tuesday night. The discussion was sponsored by the Salem League of Women Voters.

Comprising the panel were: Dr. Howard Jones, president of Youngstown University; Robert Manchester, member of the State Board of Education; R. R. Costa, of Youngstown, biology-chemistry instructor in Liberty High School and Paul E. Smith, Salem school superintendent. Alfred Fitch, school board president, was moderator.

The panel began the program by taking several representative points from Dr. Conant's report, and speaking on them individually for approximately three minutes.

They then discussed the points collectively and questioned one another on the opinions expressed. Probably the most important point of the evening was brought out by Dr. Jones during a discussion of Dr. Conant's recommendation that, "Time devoted to English composition should equal half the total time spent on the study and teaching of that subject, and every student should be required to write at least one theme a week."

Dr. Jones said, "The American student cannot take too much English. We are so worried about our students in the fields of mathematics and sciences that we forget that the student cannot study these fields without knowing how to read and comprehend the English language."

"And without knowing the language he is not as likely to react to a given problem."

School Bus Crash Kills 8; 21 Hurt

COOPER, Tex. (AP) — A bus filled with school children and teachers en route to a junior high school football game collided headon Tuesday night with a huge tank truck. The violent crash killed seven persons — six students and two teachers — and injured 22 others including 21 children.

The bus from Mt. Vernon, Tex., and the diesel truck collided at a highway intersection on the eastern edge of this east Texas town. There was no fire. The impact hurled some children to the highway, demolished the bus and smashed the truck's cab.

"The bus made a signal to turn left and then for some reason swerved. I just couldn't miss him. It was horrible," said J. M. Warrington, 39, of Grand Saline, Tex., the truck driver.

Warrington was injured and taken to a Paris, Tex., hospital. He was en route home from Pryor, Tex., where he had delivered a load of salt.

Killed in the crash were Jack Henry, 45, principal of the Mt. Vernon Junior High School and driver of the bus; his son, Billy Max, 12; Melba Meeks, a teacher; Kenneth Hightower, 12, and Sex Weatherford, 12. Three other students, Zach Taylor, Audrey Sue Turner, 13, and Waukita Rainey, a 6th grader, died in a hospital from their injuries.

Ambulances took the injured to hospitals here, at Paris and Sulphur Springs. Anxious parents and relatives crowded hospital rooms and halls as they sought their children. At Paris an emergency call for blood donors brought out 400 volunteers.

A second bus carrying the Mt. Vernon Junior High School football squad arrived a few minutes after the accident. The game was cancelled.

The truck was en route to Grand Saline, a salt-producing center, after delivering a load of salt.

Exact cause of the accident was not clear. It occurred at a Y-shaped intersection. Officers said the bus was going north and the truck south when the bus driver started to turn left onto the branch of the Y.

Investigators said the bus driver decided he couldn't make it and swerved back to the right. At the same time, they said, the truck driver apparently cut to his left in an attempt to miss the bus, which he thought was going to turn left in front of him.

The vehicles collided in almost the middle of the highway.

Passage of Bonds for County Home Urged

LISBON—The Columbiana County Commissioners have mailed out approximately 425 letters to civic, fraternal and religious organizations in the county urging their support of the $989,000 bond issue for construction of a new county infirmary.

The letters stress the unsafe, rundown condition of the home and the exorbitant cost of effecting repairs, which, the commission ers say, would afford only temporary relief because of the general deterioration of the property.

The commissioners urge representatives of the organizations to go on inspection tours of the buildings planned for next Tuesday through Oct. 15.

Rochester, Pa., Man To Go on Trial Monday

LISBON — Prosecutor G. William Brokaw has scheduled the grand larceny case of Glenn McCoy, 45, of Rochester, Pa., as the first criminal trial during this term of court. The trial will begin Monday.

McCoy, indicted for the theft of scrap wire from the Ohio Edison Co. plant in Salem Aug. 11 has been confined in the county jail since then. He pleaded not guilty at arraignment day Monday.

Atty. Duane Yeagley of Salem was appointed by the court to defend McCoy. Judge Joel H. Sharp will preside.

Explosion Rips Airliner, Killing 28 Passengers

6 Crewmen Also Perish; Craft Was Flying on Instrument

WACO, Tex. (AP)—A big Houston-to-New York airliner exploded in the air Tuesday night, streaked across the sky like a comet, and crashed. Thirty-four persons died as it struck on a central Texas farm.

The ship was a 75-passenger Braniff Airways turboprop Electra. It carried 28 passengers and a crew of six. It had scheduled stops at Dallas and Washington.

There was no immediate explanation for the crash. Jack Miller of Braniff at Houston said the plane arrived in Houston 22 minutes late and thus was 22 minutes late in leaving the terminal. It became airborne seven minutes later at 10:44 p.m. Miller had no explanation of why the craft arrived late.

The pilot gave no indication of trouble at the time he added. Broken clouds hovered over this area then. There was thunderstorm activity about 75 miles to the northwest but none in the immediate vicinity, the Weather Bureau said.

The airliner crashed on the R. E. White farm, five miles southeast of Buffalo, a town of 1,200 population. Buffalo is 68 miles southeast of Waco.

"It looked like it exploded as it came over our house, 'way up in the sky,'" said Mrs. Billy Webb, 30. She and her husband watched from their home five miles north of where the wreckage hit.

"The whole sky lit up. It kept on going, and it looked like a fall-

Twinsburg Strike May Cause More Serious Layoffs

DETROIT (AP) — A labor dispute at Chrysler Corp.'s new stamping plant in Twinsburg, Ohio, threatened today to cut drastically production of 1960 model cars while idling 45,000 employees in seven states.

The plant was struck Tuesday by 3,500 members of United Auto Workers Local 122.

John D. Leary, a Chrysler vice president, said Tuesday night that 25,000 employees, most of them in the Detroit area, will be sent home by tonight. He said an additional 20,000 will be given layoff notices by Friday night.

Leary said loss of essential body stamping production at the Twinsburg plant would affect workers at plants in Michigan, Ohio, Indiana, Missouri, California, Delaware and New York.

The Twinsburg plant produces body parts for virtually every Chrysler model.

The Twinsburg plant has had 13 strikes since it was opened two years ago. Previous strikes were not authorized by the UAW said the latest strike was authorized by the international union.

In the current dispute, Twinsburg workers walked out Sept. 2 complaining about safety and working conditions. They went back to work after staying out briefly, but walked out again after the company fired 12 employees.

The international union ordered the strikers back to work and set a 12-day negotiating period. The membership of the local Sunday rejected a company proposal to put the 12 men who had been disciplined on suspension instead of firing them.

The company said grievances over safety and working conditions had been settled. The union denied this.

FBI Nabs 2 In Bank Robbery

Pair Being Held For Yorkville Theft

STUEBENVILLE, Ohio (AP)—The FBI has arrested two men sought in the $38,000 robbery more than a month ago of the Community Saving Bank in nearby Yorkville. One man was captured in Miami, Fla., the other in Beaumont, Tex.

Daniel J. Koenig, 28, was taken into custody at his Miami home Tuesday night. The FBI said a search of the house uncovered a wall panel that held a suitcase containing a .45 pistol and about $14,000.

Charles Forest Waugaman, 26, of Pittsburgh, was arrested earlier Tuesday in a Beaumont motel. Agents said an estimated $7,000 in water-soaked money had been recovered.

Both men have been charged under federal law with bank robbery. The FBI said the two were on parole from the Western State Penitentiary in Pittsburgh.

Koenig is to be arraigned before a U. S. commissioner at Miami today. Waugaman is being held in $50,000 bond pending his return to Steubenville where the charge against him was filed Sept. 11.

A weird set of circumstances surrounded the bank robbery on Aug. 22.

Two men staged it. They wore Alpine hats with Tyrolean feathers, sun glasses and "beatnik" goatees, believed to be false disguises. They fled in a stolen auto, escaped across the Ohio River in a life raft powered by an outboard motor. Reaching the West Virginia side, the pair made off in a rented car.

Eleven days before the holdup, a woman telephoned the bank and said: "At 10:30 in the morning your bank will be robbed."

She didn't specify a date, so the bank asked police to check the place every mid-morning. Two officers would stop in, or watch the bank from their cruiser.

Concluding the phone call from the woman was a practical joke, the bank called off the special precautions on a Saturday morning.

It was then that two men walked into the bank and—after leading the tellers and three customers into a vault—escaped with the loot. The time was 10:30.

U.S. Officials Study Trade With Soviets

WASHINGTON (AP) — U. S. officials are considering a series of possible measures to improve trade relations between the Soviet Union and the United States in the wake of the Eisenhower-Khrushchev talks.

Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev said last week trade improvement could be considered one test of U. S. good will in promoting world peace.

Nevertheless officials believe that any large increase in the exchange of goods between the two countries is out of the question.

The reason given boils down to this: the United States does not need large volume of raw materials such as chrome and manganese which the U. S. S. R. does not need. The U. S. S. R. is able to sell, because it gets them from other sources. Nor will this country grant huge credits to Moscow to finance what it wants to buy here.

The Soviet Union is more interested in buying whole factories than it is in purchasing consumer goods or even materials of immediate strategic importance.

It wants factories which could be put into production of primary consumer goods in the Soviet Union. It is particularly anxious to build up its chemical and plastics industries. It wants long-term credits to pay for them.

U. S. officials are thinking in much more limited terms.

Among developments under consideration is removal of embargoes on crab meat and a variety of furs which the Soviet Union has to sell.

There is also some talk among officials of narrowing the list of items which are prohibited for shipment to the Soviet Union.

Community Chest Agencies (No. 2)

Clinic's Services Affect Many

Standing ready to serve Salem residents 24 hours a day is the Central Clinic and Hospital. In the last year 461 babies were born in the Clinic and 2,329 persons were admitted for care.

An additional 6,665 persons were provided service in the X-ray, laboratory, emergency and other diagnostic departments of the hospital.

Located at the corner of N. Broadway and E. Second St. the hospital has more than doubled in size since its opening in 1921. From a modest beginning of 20 beds and six bassinets, the Clinic has grown to its present size of 55 beds and 12 bassinets. During the past year the maternity department was enlarged.

The Clinic recently graduated its second student from the school of medical technology that it functions in affiliation with Mount Union College. The number of students enrolled in this school is limited to provide maximum supervisory and instruction.

Nursing Program

A vocational training program for future nurses is conducted by the Clinic in conjunction with the Lectoria Public Schools. High school girls enrolled in this program receive basic training in nursing techniques as a prelude to entering a school for graduate or practical nurses.

Despite increased expenses, the Clinic and Hospital has kept total charges as low as any other hospital in northeastern Ohio. Superintendent Albert Hanna points out. There are many services rendered by the hospital, however, for which the recipients do not, or are not able to pay. This charge-off amounts to almost $25,000 annually.

Patients' charges for services provide only necessary operating funds, and together with other voluntary contributions, provide the capital funds to purchase new and replacement equipment. In this way the most modern diagnostic and treatment facilities are maintained. In 1958 the Clinic received an allotment of $4,000 from the Community Fund. This allocation will be duplicated for the coming year.

The Central Clinic was founded as a stock corporation in one of Salem's first public school buildings in 1921. The typhoid epidemic of 1920 hastened its beginning. The building was first used during the epidemic to care for the typhoid fever victims.

Through the years the hospital has pursued a course of steady growth and improvement. In 1936 the original stock corporation was dissolved and the hospital was reorganized as a voluntary, non-profit community hospital, at which time it became a participating agency in the Community Fund.

Just before that word came out Eisenhower issued a statement saying that in view of the mounting impact of the 78-day-old strike on the nation's economy and the consequent unemployment "I sincerely hope that an agreement can be initiated before my return to Washington next week."

Decisions Effective in 20 Days

2 Air Route Expansions Recommended by Examiner

WASHINGTON (AP) — Expansion of air routes for Lake Central and North Central Airlines in the Great Lakes area has been recommended by a Civil Aeronautics Board examiner.

Examiner Barron Fredericks gave the two lines preference Tuesday over Mohawk, Ozark and other airlines that had applied to supply service.

If no exceptions are filed the examiner's decision will become final in 20 days.

He recommended Lake Central be granted a route between Grand Rapids, Mich., and Columbus, Ohio, with stops at Jackson, Mich. Toledo and Mansfield, Ohio.

Mandatory stops would be made at Jackson and Mansfield to prevent non-stop service between Columbus and Toledo and to avoid competition with Capital Airlines' Grand Rapids-Toledo route.

Lake Central had proposed a route from Grand Rapids to Milwaukee but Fredericks recommended this route for North Central. He said there was no need of Lake Central service beyond Grand Rapids.

The examiner also proposed these routes for Lake Central:

1. Between Detroit and Pittsburgh, via Toledo, Sandusky, Cleveland, Akron - Canton and Youngstown.

2. Between Columbus and Baltimore via Zanesville, Ohio, Wheeling and Morgantown, W. Va., and Washington, D. C.

3. Between Cincinnati and Baltimore via Portsmouth, Ohio, Parkersburg, W. Va. - Marietta, Ohio, Clarksburg-Farmington and Elkins, W. Va.

4. Between Bloomington and Columbus, Ind. and Cincinnati.

5. Between Columbus, Ohio, and Akron-Canton.

6. Between Portsmouth and Columbus.

7. Between Lima, Findlay and Toledo, Ohio, and Detroit.

8. Between Columbus and Cleveland, on a non-stop basis subject to certain conditions.

In other action: He recommended against service by Lake Central over a Toledo-Terre Haute route via Defiance. He said traffic possibilities in the Defiance-Bryan area do not warrant local service.

Found it would be unnecessary to suspend service by Delta Air Lines at Toledo on its Detroit-Memphis route.

Proposed suspension of American Airlines' authority to serve Elins and Parkersburg - Marietta while Lake Central serves them.

Recommended denial of Mohawk's application for a route extension from Buffalo and Rochester, N. Y. to Cleveland.

Cincinnati Readies For Steel Walkout

CINCINNATI (AP) — The possibility of strikes by some 2,000 union steel workers is in prospect at midnight tonight.

Ready to strike if negotiations fail are about 300 workers at Continental Can Co., Sharonville; 200 at American Co., Blue Ash; 700 at the American Co., 325 at Huenefeld Co., 250 at Balcrank Inc., and 250 at the Interchemical Corp., all of Cincinnati. Union contracts at all five plants expire at midnight.

All workers involved are members of District 25 United Steelworkers Union, except those at Interchemical, who are represented by the International Chemical Workers Union.

Meetings here with Federal Mediator Alton Hayman and the Interchemical officials and union representatives at 9 a.m. were to attempt to avert that strike. Another meeting with union representatives and officials of Huenefeld with Mediator James Wilson was planned at 10 a.m. and Wilson was to sit in at a meeting between union and company officials of Balcrank at 1:30 p.m.

The can companies' and steelworkers' bargainers also seek an industry wide settlement in New York.

DiSalle Seeks Segregation of Mentally Ill and Retarded

WOOSTER, Ohio (AP) — Gov. Michael V. DiSalle said during a surprise visit to nearby Apple Creek State Hospital Tuesday that mentally ill and mentally retarded patients at the hospital should be segregated.

Understaffing is another condition at the hospital that should be corrected, he said.

The hospital population is slowly being changed from a combination of ill and retarded patients to all retarded.

"This must be made into a one-purpose institution as soon as possible," the governor told Dr. William G. Stover, the hospital superintendent. "You need a lot of help and we're going to try to get it for you."

DiSalle pointed out that Apple Creek has only 19 registered nurses for 2,300 patients while at Tiffin State Hospital there are 22 nurses for 800 patients.

He also noted that the Apple Creek hospital is 30 per cent overpopulated.

"We've got to stop admitting people who don't belong here," he said of the hospital's 175 to 200 senile patients who are not subject to psychiatric treatment.

Dr. Stover told the governor that segregation of the ill and retarded patients would mean further overcrowding and would entail considerable trouble and expense.

He also said the hospital could use 10 psychiatrists. It now has only one fully trained psychiatrist and three or four medical doctors with some psychiatric training.

Revenue Collections Down from '58 Total

WASHINGTON (AP) — Internal revenue collections for the year ended last June 30 dropped $290,000,000 from the previous year's total, the Internal Revenue Service reported Tuesday. Collections totaled $79,799,000,000 for the 1958-59 year.

Ohio collections for the years ended June 30, 1959 and June 30, 1958 were $5,047,385,000 and $5,355,654,000, respectively.

Newark Man Fined $15,000 In First Case

NEWARK, Ohio (AP) — In the first case of its kind in Ohio, a Newark man has been fined $15,000 for filing fraudulent tax returns on his intangible property.

Emerson Miller, 67, was fined $2,000, the maximum, on each of five counts. He also was fined $5,000 effective for five years but suspended on condition he files true returns in the future.

Miller is a former high school economics teacher, and the penalty was imposed by one of his former students, Common Pleas Judge Charles Holtsberry.

An official in the office of Atty. Gen. Mark McElroy said this is Ohio's first indictment on tax evasion since the tax was passed 30 years ago.

Miller pleaded guilty to the charges, which involved the years 1953 through 1957. The amount and the property involved could not be disclosed since tax returns are confidential unless submitted in court as evidence. An official said the amount was "substantial."

Licking County Prosecutor Howard Ashcraft recommended that a substantial penalty be assessed as a deterrent to others. Miller later said he was being used by the state and that errors in his

Get Your Gas Furnace Ready For Winter NOW!

Now — while the weather is mild — is the time to make sure your Gas furnace is in tip-top working order. By calling your heating contractor or dealer early, you avoid the rush for service when cold weather strikes . . . assure your family they'll have heat when they need it.

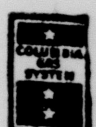

And, you protect your furnace. Like anything mechanical, your Gas heating equipment will last longer and give better service if you give it proper care. Periodic check-ups insure continuous, efficient, economical operation of your Gas heating plant.

Make arrangements now to have your heating dealer clean your furnace . . . check burners and pilot light . . . inspect vents and flues for stoppages . . . replace clogged, dirty filters if you have a forced-air system. The cost for these important services is low, and you'll be glad later that you acted early to put your furnace in shape for better service all winter long.

Now is the time, too, to join our Budget Heating Plan. Ask about this helpful plan which lets you spread your winter heating bills evenly over 10 months, starting in October.

Agricultural Merry-Go-Round

While Nikita Khrushchev was inspecting U.S. farm methods in Iowa last week, Secretary of Agriculture Benson was taking off on an overseas tour that includes several Iron Curtain countries and no less than 11 congressional committees were planning or embarking on junkets abroad.

Astonishing as it may seem, all the travel activity was related in one of those oddball situations that characterize modern world conditions.

Mr. Khrushchev represents a bloc of nations chronically plagued with inadequate farm production. He is interested in making good on his oft-repeated pledge to overtake the U.S. in that field in the not-too-distant future.

Mr. Benson represents a nation chronically plagued with too much farm production. He is interested in getting rid of some of its overflowing surpluses.

His trip is aimed at expanding the use of the 1934 law which permits the sale of surpluses to other countries. Some of these fall within the domain of Mr. Khrushchev.

One of the problems of this program, however, is that the purchasing nations frequently are so short of dollars that they pay for the foodstuffs with credits to be spent within their own borders.

To keep these foreign credits from becoming as much of an economic headache as the surpluses at home, the U.S. spends them for such things as foreign technical books and papers, exchange visits, buildings for U.S. use and for junketing congressmen.

So, while some of the legislators will be paying their expenses out of the record travel appropriations passed by the recent session of Congress, many will be putting the tab on the overseas farm surplus credits.

Putting it all together, it takes on the earmarks of a crazy game of tag. While Mr. Khrushchev is trying to figure out what U.S. methods will help him boost Communist farm output, Mr. Benson is trying to sell Communist nations more U.S. agriculture surpluses, which will increase the stockpile of foreign credits.

And while Mr. Benson is engaged in that pursuit, congressmen are trying to use up more of the fat cash reserves accumulated from surplus sales already made.

Meanwhile, the congressmen have left behind them — untouched on their desks on Capitol Hill — Mr. Benson's proposals for reducing the farm surpluses.

Such are the peculiarities of modern civilization.

To Be Or Not to Be Efficient

The layman, concerned for his tax dollar and his nation's security, is apt to view the news of the latest Pentagon reshuffling of the U.S. space program with considerable anxiety.

The news itself is not really new, but an old story: The agency created only last year to take control of the various space projects pursued by the separate branches of the armed forces is now being kicked "upstairs." The projects will be handed back to the military with the Air Force as the kingpin.

Still under consideration by the Defense Department brass are proposals submitted by the Navy and the Air Force to modify the setup further.

It does not take much study to see the whole affair as simply another symptom of the inter-service rivalry and Pentagon confusion that have plagued our military affairs since the attempt at unification was launched in 1947.

AND THE ordinary citizen is left more confused than anyone. With his annual defense bill standing at 41 billion dollars and his face turning red occasionally in the space race with Russia, he just wishes somebody would take the bull by the horns and straighten things out in the five-sided monu-

State's New Motto

"With God All Things Are Possible" and because 12-year-old Jimmy Mastronardo of Cincinnati believed just that, his suggestion of those words, taken from the New Testament, will become Ohio's new motto Thursday.

Jimmy started plugging for his motto three years ago, stuck with it and finally persuaded the state legislature to enact it into law. It replaces the 92-year-old "Imperium in Imperio" motto which the General Assembly repealed two years ago because it sounded too imperialistic.

The state's new motto is from the Book of Matthew 19:26: "But Jesus beheld them and said unto them, With men this is impossible; but with God all things are possible."

We would do well to reflect on the message.

Once Over

Gasoline is up again through another federal tax, proving once more that the auto owner is regarded as a punch-drunk preliminary boy who can still take it. Federal and state governments, charge as much for gas as the producer, in theory that a solvent autoist is shirking his duty.

The excuse is that more and more taxes on gas are required to provide superhighways but a poll would show thousands would be glad to use old roads to escape the federal foot on necks.

New highways are wonderful but autoist pays through both the nose and the hose. A modern auto trip is a journey through wider roads on thinner pocketbooks. It is a dizzy flight between given points, most of which are toll and gas stations.

Autoists stop not only to have gas and oil checked but their wallets as well. When they say, "I think I'm flat," they may be referring to the bank balance.

WHILE THE STATION attendant handles the pump, Uncle Sam handles the vacuum cleaner.

To "Want your windshield cleaned" they can reply, "No. I'm in such bad shape I wouldn't know if I was coming or going anyhow."

Politicians and lawmakers are to blame. When the auto was given to the world nobody dreamt the time would come when its operation would be a test of personal valor and financial endurance. (We can remember when gas was a dime a gallon, tax free. In our first car we drove up to a gas station and ordered two gallons out of sheer New England frugality.)

The roads were not de luxe but they afforded foliage, fresh air and a sense of enjoying scenery while in motion. Of course superhighways are a requirement of progress.

They get you around with fewer bumps on ment to frustration on the Potomac.

But, alas, the battle cannot be ended so easily, for essentially it is only another skirmish in a war that has been confusing people for 172 years. The issue: How efficient can a democracy get?

Lined up on one side of the current Defense Department skirmish are those who say that the interplanetary aspects of the Cold War demand the utmost in expediency and efficiency. Therefore, it is mandatory that control be centralized in as few hands as possible and exercised with tough resistance to outside pressures.

The trouble with that argument can best be emphasized by the reminder that no form of government is more expedient or efficient than dictatorship.

Lined up on the opposite side of the Pentagon skirmish are the armed forces and their supporters, who contend that the traditional rivalry of the separate services serves the same purpose as competition in capitalism—it provides the incentive for bigger and better advances faster. Therefore, each branch should be allowed to go its own merry way with interference from no quarter.

The trouble with that argument can best be emphasized by pointing to the hundreds of bureaucratic agencies engaged in inexpedient and inefficient waste of time, money and work.

OBVIOUSLY, the conflict can be resolved by finding that point at which a democracy is inefficient enough to remain a democracy but efficient enough to be able to afford the luxury of democracy.

And therein lies the rub. No one has ever been able to find that point. Some of the most bitter political and philosophical controversies in American history have been sparked by attempts to find it. Temporary agreements — compromises — have been reached, but nothing permanently absolute absolute has ever been decided.

And it never will be in our democratic lifetime. For if a decision were made one way or the other, the result would not be democracy. It would be either dictatorship or anarchy.

your anatomy but with more bruises on your economic status. They make it possible for Millions of Americans to pass one another with less crowding en route to the poorhouse or bankruptcy court.

But the situation calls for a few more road signs. We suggest "SLOW DOWN: FISCAL PROBLEM AHEAD," "TAXATION ZONE UNDER REPAIRS" and "DANGER. U.S. NEW TAX PROPOSAL NEAR."

IT'S A WONDER Nikita didn't claim that Camp David constituted "house arrest." Looking back over his visit, the best break the United States got was Khrush endowment of an American hot dog.

We were afraid he might declare the frankfurter an aggressor if served with hot mustard. In a way he made the hot dog an instrument of world peace and certainly put it far ahead of Disneyland as helpful in thawing out the cold war.

It brings the late Harry Stevens into the picture as a man of global influence. It was Harry who first promoted hot dogs through baseball parks. Famous cartoonist "Tad" Dorgan rates an assist, too.

Hughes Had Better Plan

By JAY G. HAYDEN

For a disarmament blockbuster comparable to Nikita Khrushchev's U.N. proposal — that all of the world's armed forces be scrapped within four years—it is necessary to turn back to Charles Evans Hughes' speech, opening the Washington Disarmament Conference in 1921.

Hughes, secretary of state under President Harding, proposed that the United States, Great Britain and Japan reciprocally sink or dismantle 66 of their largest and finest fighting ships, which he specifically listed.

Of this sacrifice the United States assumed the biggest share — 30 vessels, all built or under construction, with a total tonnage of 845,740.

Britain was asked to scrap 17 operating battleships and two incomplete battle cruisers, totaling 411,375 tons.

Japan was to give up 10 existing battleships and seven under construction, totaling 448,928 tons.

THE REMARKABLE fact regarding this Hughes initiative was that it went on to produce the only important accomplishment in the field of internationally directed disarmament in all history. From 1921 to about 1932, when Japan went completely militaristic, the 5-5-3 naval limitation, substantially as proposed by Mr. Hughes, persisted with remarkable success.

The limitation meant that the British and American fleets would be on a par, while Japan's would be three-fifths their size.

The 1921 conference failed to apply similar limitation to lesser naval armaments, due mainly to the intransigence of France.

The United States in the later 1920's accentuated that failure of insisting on building cruisers of the absolute maximum permitted under the Washington Treaty — 10,000 tons with eight-inch guns. That suggested the "pocket battleships" to the Germans, reviving slowly from World War I.

Their "pocket battleships" were limited to 10,000 tons but embraced a lot of new wrinkles in accelerated gun power.

Using this German innovation as one of its excuses, the Japanese in 1934 announced their intention to terminate the whole naval reduction at the end of one year—the period for revocation prescribed in the original treaty.

Thus this first experiment in mutual curtailment of armed forces failed lamentably, and the two nations chiefly responsible for destroying it — Germany and Japan — went on to become the principal aggressors in World War II.

In three respects, the Khrushchev offering is very different from that of Hughes.

KHRUSHCHEV NOWHERE identifies specific armed forces of the nations concerned — that is, comparative numbers of armed men or various types of weapons and their fire power.

In contrast it was the naming of ships to be scrapped, susceptible to comparison by anybody, that made the Hughes plan so impregnable.

Hughes, besides proposing that the United States take the main burden in arms reduction, proposed maintenance of the status quo regarding the occupation and fortification of all islands in the Pacific west of Hawaii.

That specification was enormously important to Japan in that it meant that the United States would in no way increase its defensive or offensive armaments on Guam, Wake or the Philippine Islands. Nor would Britain on any of its easterly outposts such as Hong Kong and Singapore.

Finally, the United States and Britain joined Japan in a guaranty of freedom of China from outside exploitation, meaning in effect a bar against any further colonialism in the Far East.

Each of these Western nations surrendered the Chinese soil they were occupying at the time of the Washington agreement. The United States later voluntarily set the Philippine Islands free and Britain gave independence to India, Pakistan and Burma.

Khrushchev demands that the NATO alliance end completely its protective occupation of Western Europe, while giving not the slightest suggestion that Russia will relinquish domination of Communist satellites such as East Germany, Poland, Czechoslovakia and Hungary.

Quite definitely the Khrushchev plan, if it is to succeed, must first be brought down to manageable cases and, second, be vested with a definable mutuality, as between the contestants, which it so far lacks.

Diversionsary Tactic

No Progress Made In East-West Battle

He came, he saw—but he didn't conquer. Nikita Khrushchev tested President Eisenhower and found him firm in his convictions that the people of West Berlin cannot be abandoned by the free world. The ultimatum filed by the Soviet Premier last November was not withdrawn.

There may be a summit conference, to be sure, in a few weeks but it will start where the Geneva Foreign Ministers Conference left off. No progress has been made toward a solution unless the better climate created by the Soviet Premier's visit is a kind of progress in itself.

Likewise, it must be said that Nikita Khrushchev stood firm. If he yielded on any point, it might be found some day somewhere in the ambiguity of the many phrases he poured out in his visit to America.

The Sunday afternoon press conference and the farewell address oater on television together with the many opportunities for the Soviet Premier in the last 12 days to give his side of the controversy between the East and the West are indications of a mutual desire, on the surface at least, for improvement in the relations between the Soviet Union and the United States.

But this is the way Soviet Propaganda works—it gives a glowing description of its intentions but, when it comes down to brass tacks, the only solution that seems peaceful to the Moscow regime involves the surrender by the other side of all its convictions.

THE WHOLE TRIP was a diversionary tactic—an effort to simplify the cold war on the propaganda front as if it were merely an argument between two economic systems like socialism and capitalism and as if all the pending questions could be settled easily around the conference table.

Even as the Soviet Premier was talking at the press conference table on Sunday afternoon there came over the press wires the following dispatch:

"Chinese Communist troops from Tibet are taking over land previously considered India's and have reinforced their garrisons along the border."

The cold war is still a hot war in many parts of the world. Nikita Khrushchev has done nothing to stop the fighting by the Communists in Laos or along the border of India. He signed nevertheless a communique of the usual pious kind issued after formal meetings of governmental officials.

It said that the Soviet Premier and President Eisenhower had "agreed that all outstanding international questions should be settled not by the application of force but by peaceful means by negotiations."

Yet throughout the world the Soviet subversion continues as billions of rubles are being spent to stir up revolutions in Southeast Asia and in North Africa and to foment friction between the United States and the countries of Latin America.

To cause each side to give up its missiles and nuclear weapons is the stated objective of the forthcoming discussions on disarmament but Mr. Khrushchev didn't say anything about disarming the infiltrators who are operating in behalf of the Communist cause throughout the world on the direct orders of the Soviet government in Moscow.

AS FOR THE STATUS of West Berlin, it hasn't been changed by the Khrushchev-Eisenhower conferences. It is still up to the various governments concerned to argue further about this.

Presumably there is to be a summit meeting soon at Geneva to continue the discussions, after which the matter will again be passed on to the four foreign ministers to consider.

It's a good thing that President Eisenhower's trip to the Soviet Union has been postponed till next spring. It gives time for the Soviets to build up through the negotiations in the meantime a better basis for consultation with Mr. Eisenhower an outstanding issue—possibly some minor concessions.

What it all comes down to is that those who have argued that there is merit in a series of talks and discussions by high officials of both sides are having their way. It isn't settling anything but at least it comforts many persons in giving them the feeling that war isn't around the corner.

The danger of a big war, however, still remains because neither side will really disarm. Meanwhile a smaller war can bring on a bigger one. Hitler thought he could get away with a localized war but it led to World War II.

THE KHRUSHCHEV answers to numerous questions by the press on Sunday were largely evasive and others were unintentionally meaningful.

The Soviet Premier, for instance, said it was true many young people were going to church but out of "curiosity." He said there was freedom of worship in the Soviet Union but one couldn't help wondering why churches were regarded as a curiosity.

Mr. Khrushchev may have forgotten that earlier in the day he had told President Eisenhower he couldn't accompany him to church at Gettysburg because the people in the Soviet Union would be "shocked" if he went.

Why, if there's freedom of worship, would it shock anyone to see the Soviet Premier in a church with the President of the United States? The answer is that Communism is a doctrine that opposes religion and extols atheism.

The differences between the two systems are not solely economic either.

The chief differences are between liberty and slavery, between a system of free elections and a dictatorship, between a God-given code of morality and the code of Communism in which the end justifies the means.

This includes an outpouring of high sounding phrases about "peaceful coexistence" and plenty of smiles and handshakes and a worldwide propaganda that is insincere on its face.

What Khrushchev really wants is materialistic. He is after our strategic goods—just as Hitler was in the 1930's—and the Soviet leader may make a few concessions here and there to get such trade opened up.

But the cold war will go on primarily because the Communists want it to continue. Where there is no fundamental moral sense on one side there can be no mutual trust.

Matter of Fact

In the presidential election of 1824, Andrew Jackson won the greatest number of electoral votes, 99, against 84 for John Quincy Adams, 41 for William H. Crawford and 37 for Henry Clay. But he lacked the necessary majority. So the House of Representatives had to choose between Jackson, Adams and Crawford. In the final balloting, Adams won by six votes: 13 for Adams, seven for Jackson, four for Crawford.

The Mohammedan religion is based on the Koran, the name given by Mohammed to the revelations which he claimed Allah or God made to him through the angel Gabriel. Mohammedans believe that the original text of the book is in heaven and that Gabriel dictated the sacred words from it. The revelations were begun while Mohammed was at Mecca in 610 A.D. They were completed at the time of his death, in 632, at Medina.

So They Say

I don't want to be an alarmist or start a controversy, but the pigeon is a dirty bird. If people knew enough about it, they wouldn't want it around them.

Mrs. Higgins Is Named By Columbiana Group

COLUMBIANA — Mrs. Adelaide Higgins was elected president of the Kindergarten Mothers Club when it reorganized recently for the new school year. Other officers are:

Mrs. Nancy Sullivan, vice president; Mrs. Ellen Freeman, secretary; Mrs. Mary Lou Miller, assistant secretary; Mrs. Pat Kapp, treasurer; and Mrs. Mary Jo Ford, assistant treasurer. Mrs. Betty Houlette was named chairman of the ways and means committee.

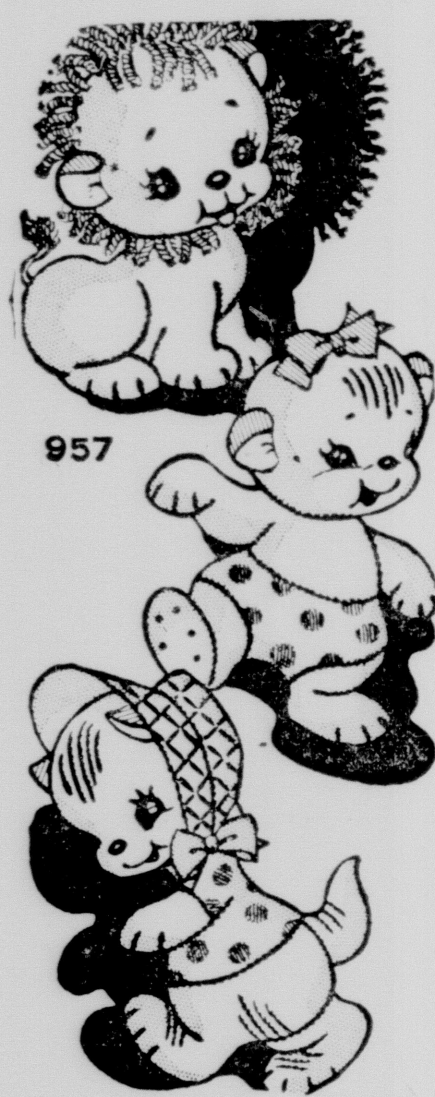

The club's next meeting will be Wednesday, Oct. 7, at Dixon School. After that date, however, meetings will be held the first Tuesday of each month at the elementary school building.

MORE THAN 40 teachers and administrators of the Columbiana school system were guests at the Kiwanis Club dinner meeting Monday evening at Heck's Restaurant. Supt. D. W. Bailey introduced the special department and high school teachers, and Principal Raymond Cole introduced the elementary teachers. Gayl Gloss, Kiwanis president, is high school principal.

The program featured commentary and colored slides about an auto trip to Alaska, taken during the summer by Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Hughes and three children of East Palestine. They spent five weeks on the 12,000-mile trek. Harold Armstrong was program chairman.

Two films dealing with fluoridation were shown for Rotary Club members at their dinner meeting.

Promotion At Church Is Held In Greenford

GREENFORD — Promotion Sunday was observed at the Greenford Christian Church Sunday.

Those promoted were Bruce Schaffer, Danny Wolford, Cherie Howe, Allen Janosic, Roxanne Vinion, Mary Jo Rotzel, John Huffman, Barbara Gilby, Judy Harper, Phyllis Mauch, Clark Wisler Jr., George Gilbey, Mark Makoski, Lawrence Kille, Barbara and Carol Stouffer and Sally Beardsley.

RALLY DAY will be observed at the Christian Church Sunday. A congregational dinner will be held at the grange hall immediately following church services.

The following committees have been appointed: orange drink, Walt Makoski; coffee, Wilbur Charlton and N. W. Brightwell; tables, Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Schaffer, Mr. and Mrs. William Ferguson, and Mr. and Mrs. Dean Knauf. Drury Benton will be the speaker.

A reception honoring the marriage of Mr. and Mrs. Dean Knauf was given by the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Clark Wisler on Sunday at Greenford Grange Hall.

Approximately 150 persons attended. Those helping to serve were Mrs. Artie Wisler, Mrs. Wilbur Blasiman, Mrs. Lester Mosier, Miss Barbara Blasiman, and Mrs. Lee Barnes. Miss Linda Mosier, Miss Shirley Howells and Roger Knauf assisted with the gifts. Music was furnished during the afternoon.

THE GREENFORD SCHOOL Fair will be held Friday. The doors will open at 7:15. Exhibits, games and refreshments will highlight the evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Stewart of Columbus spent the weekend with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Rhodes.

The church council of the Christian Church will hold a meeting Monday at 8 p.m. at the church. The Greenford Christian Church Sunday School ended their attendance contest with a 16 per cent gain over the months of July and August, 1958.

Reynard to Assist County Home Proposal

Cloyd W. Reynard of 1075 Highland Ave. has been appointed by County Commissioners as chairman of the Salem area publicity group which will work for passage of the County Home bond issue on the November ballot.

This is the second appointment to the publicity committee made by the commissioners. Earlier this month, they named Robert Kapp of East Liverpool to head the "support the bond issue" drive in southern Columbiana County.

The first large-scale test of arms in the Civil War, along a little creek called Bull Run about twenty-five miles from Washington, took place July 21, 1861 and involved many Ohio soldiers who only weeks before had been civilians.

The leader of the Union forces was from Columbus, Ohio, General Irvin McDowell, a graduate of West Point and a veteran of the Mexican War.

The great misfortune of his career was that he was made the scapegoat of his first major defeat for the raw Union army.

Whitelaw Reid from near Xenia, one of the most quoted war correspondents of his day and author of the book "Ohio In The War," had this to say about General McDowell at Bull Run: "His plan was excellent, and though there were innumerable faults of execution, they arose more because of the materials with which he had to work than from his own inexperience or lack of judgment. After all the display of ability which the War called out,

Ballots for Disabled Voters to Be Ready

The Columbiana County Election Board decided Monday night in East Liverpool to continue its policy of assigning staff members to aid persons in hospitals and rest homes who request a disabled voters' ballot for the Nov. 3 general election.

The program of aid for the disabled was started in 1958. Two members of the board's staff — a Democrat and a Republican — will make the rounds of rest homes and hospitals to deliver ballots to persons who request them.

Civilian absentee and disabled voters' ballots will become available for the first time Monday. The disabled voters' ballots are for persons unable to get to the polls because of illness or infirmity. Ellsworth to Hold Census On Religion

ELLSWORTH — An Ellsworth Township Religious Census will be taken Saturday, beginning at 9 a.m. under sponsorship of the decisions of the Ellsworth United Presbyterian Church.

The pastor, the Rev. Emory G. Lowe Jr., hopes the survey is completed in one day, but the census takers will use the remainder of the week to call upon those who were not home on the first day. The results of the survey are expected to be completed on Oct. 11.

Urban religious census cards will be used. The cards will include the following information: Names and ages of husband, wife, and children; where they attend church; where they are church members; where they attend Sunday School; religious background, occupation and years of schooling of each adult.

The census takers will meet Friday evening at 7 in the church basement when final arrangements will be made.

The canvassers will include: Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Keck, Mrs. David VanAnker, Mrs. Betty Smerchansky, Mr. and Mrs. James E. Renouf, Mrs. Pearl Brown, Mrs. John VanAnker, Mrs. Roy Winans, Mrs. Harold Brown, Mrs. Howard Young, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Scriver, Mrs. Albert Parkas, Mrs. Laston Frederick, Allen Dickson, Mrs. Walter A. Roberts, Mrs. C. Warren Bennington, John Mitchell, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Kesler, Mrs. David Ohl, Charles Smith, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Stack and Mr. Lowe.

After the survey is completed and correlated, the information will be given to the churches indicated in the reports, the Big Waters District of the Boy Scouts and the Ellsworth Township Volunteer Fire Department.

McElroy Preparing List of Lobbyists

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—A list of registered lobbyists and their expense statements is being readied for Atty. Gen. Mark McElroy, Secretary of State Ted W. Brown, who is setting up the list, reported that less than 40 of the 387 lobbyists registered for the 103rd General Assembly session have failed to file the required expense statement. Some listed no receipts and no expenditures.

Statute provides a maximum fine of $500 and two years in prison for violation of the lobby reporting law.

Preparation of the list for McElroy followed a Franklin County grand jury probe of lobbying activities.

Seaway Has Boosted Foreign Lake Cargo

CLEVELAND (AP)—The St. Lawrence Seaway has provided a big boost to foreign cargo tonnage moving through the Port of Cleveland. In four months, the tonnage has surpassed all of 1958. James R. Rowland, Cleveland harbor commissioner, reports that 39 ships carried 79,946 tons of general cargo imports and exports during the seaway's four-month period of operations including August. It compares with 446 ships carrying 68,007 tons in the entire 1958 season.

OHIO IS SECOND CLEVELAND (AP)—The president of the Cleveland Electric Illuminating Co. says Ohio now is the second largest industrial state in the nation, outranked only by New York. Elmer L. Lindseth made that assertion Tuesday in a speech at the 50th annual convention of the Ohio Assn. of Real Estate Boards. He advocated "accelerated industrial growth" and stressed that Ohio must compete actively with other states.

ACCIDENT IS FATAL ST. CLAIRSVILLE, Ohio (AP)—The Highway Patrol reported that Albus W. Hinkle, 42, of Canton, was killed Tuesday night in a one-car crash on Ohio 149, north of U.S. 40 near Bridgeport.

FUR IS ALL-IMPORTANT IN THE NEW PARIS collections. It is used on fabric; it is also used in combination with contrasting fur. And, of course, it appears in coats and wraps of every kind and in hats of great chic. We show here fur designs from the house of Revillon. Young coat (left) in pastel beige Brazilian river otter has wide collar of fluffy beige fox. Coat buttons down front; is belted low. The new violet mink (center) is shown in a coat of great elegance. It is cut with wide collar and full, elbow-length sleeves. Simple gray tweed dress (right) has front skirt panel trimmed with six huge buttons. It's worn with brown-leather toque of gathered mink. The mink hat idea is an excellent one for the woman who doesn't want to dent her budget with a mink jacket or stole.

Salem B. & P.W. to Mark Business Women's Week

The Salem Business and Professional Women's Club will observe National Business Women's Week Oct. 4-11. The aim for each club in the national federation is to recruit one new member for each day of that week.

Each club also is asked to hold a special meeting for prospective members on Monday night during the week of observance. The special meeting here will be at the home of the club president, Mrs. William Park of 981 Home Circle.

Plans for NBW Week were announced when Mrs. Park presided at the local club's regular monthly dinner meeting in the Ruth Smucker House.

Another special observance is a public affairs project, when the members will meet Tuesday at 7:15 p.m. in City Hall to attend a City Council session, which is to convene at 7:30.

October 11 is designated as "Go to Church Sunday." The members will gather in front of the First Christian Church at 10:15 a.m. to attend the 10:30 worship service there in a body.

Sunday, Oct. 18 is the Fall District meeting in Coshocton. All officers and chairmen are urged to attend. The Salem club will present the devotion, Miss Eileen Weaver will read "The Creation," and a trio, comprised of Miss Ruth Cosgrove, Miss Martha Park and Mrs. Elise Murdoch, will sing two selections. The meeting will start at 11 a.m. EST. Members requiring transportation may call the president, who will take reservations until Oct. 8 for the dinner.

Miss Helene Prudner will represent the club at the "Hire the Handicapped" meeting scheduled for tomorrow evening in the Ohio Bureau of Unemployment Compensation Office.

Mrs. Raymond Stiver, advisor to the Salem Senior Citizen's Club, was guest speaker at Monday night's meeting. Mrs. Stiver told of the club's organization and aims and gave an account of several recent trips enjoyed by the members.

Prior to Mrs. Stiver's talk, the 22 members welcomed her as a dinner guest. The table was decorated in the fall theme with arrangements of colorful flowers in small bowls.

Kay Blackwood's Wedding Date Set

Custom of open church will be observed for the wedding of Miss Kay Blackwood and David E. DeRhodes, Oct. 10 at 7:30 p.m. in St. Paul's Lutheran Church in Leetonia. The musical prelude will begin at 7 p.m.

Miss Blackwood is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James L. Blackwood of Leetonia. Mr. DeRhodes is the son of Mr. and Mrs. William A. Mercer of East Palestine.

The bride-elect was recently honored at a linen shower at the home of her bridegroom's mother. Miss Blackwood was feted at a miscellaneous bridal shower Friday evening at her home. The hostesses were her attendants, Miss Sally Sullivan, her cousin, who will serve as maid of honor, and the bridesmaids, Misses Linda Morris and Carol Gallo, all of Leetonia.

A pink and white motif was carried out when lunch was served to the 20 guests. The table was laid with a pink cloth and centered with an arrangement of pink and white carnations, chrysanthemums and gladioli, and pink tapers in crystal holders. The favors were miniature double wedding bells, inscribed with the couple's names.

Saturday evening, friends of the bride's parents will entertain the couple at a dinner party.

Presbyterian Youth Plan for Work Day

The Presbyterian Youth Fellowship has planned a "slave day" project for Saturday when the members will wash cars, wash windows, do yard work and other similar jobs for a nominal fee. Proceeds will be used to finance the Senior High Youth program.

Listing of New Books at Salem Public Library

Scientists who have studied outer space claim that everything found there is in constant motion. We do not know about that, but we do know that all of the Library's books on outer space are in constant motion—from one reader to another. Two new books have been added to our growing collection: "Guided Tour Through Space and Time" by Eva Fenyo and "Illustrated Guide to U.S. Missiles and Rockets" by Stanley Ulanoff. The first book is about natural phenomena, the second about man-made equipment.

FICTION

"Shadow in the Glen" by Kyle Cullen. A competent and often almost poetic novel of excitement and love during the bitter and ruthless warfare between the Irish patriot and the Black and Tans. "Golden Moment" by Isabella Holt. After divorcing dashing Brian Pell, Olive Hume returned to the mid-western town of Meridian and married quiet Joe Brundage. When Brian had difficulties in Washington Olive flew to his assistance and found a new love. "Alcatraz" by Max Brand. A thrilling western adventure in which a beautiful wild stallion plays the lead roles. "Clouded Fountain" by McCrae. A story of Llewellyn's fight against King John of England and the usurper, his half-brother, to regain his throne of Gwynedd. "Ode to a Young Love" by Basil Davidson. A lyric love, between the daughter of a greedy woman and the son of her mother's lover, ends in tragedy.

NON-FICTION

"Complete Book of Winning Football Drills" by George Allen. Basic football drills for all positions and situations. The well-known coach gives special drills for the key men in each play. "Light in the Jungle" by Leo and Jessie Halliwell. For the last thirty years the Halliells have been medical missionaries in Brazil. This is the chronicle of their work bringing religion and civilization to the wilderness. "Dear Friends and Darling Romans" by Mary Chamberlin. Rome and Italy as they appear to a middle western American. A humorous community with serious overtones about people and places. "Rockefeller Family Portrait" by William Manchester. A three generation picture of the Rockefeller

Ten year old Patricia continues to spend time with her pet lion after it outgrows its cage and is returned to the jungle. Then she dares a native warrior to meet the lion alone and unarmed.

"Man Running" by Elliot West. Igor Stek rents American Ben Dana's passport and disappears in Paris leaving Seledad at security. When Ben and Seledad try to find him they find love.

"Bottletop Affair" by Gordon Cotler. Lt. Wye of G2 is sent to Roohan to catch a Japanese hold-out known as Bottletop, for his fondness for Coca Cola. His adventures make a funny tale of dreams of glory, frustration, and final triumph.

"Slack Tide" by G. H. Cox. MacLaren had been curious about Kingley's tightly shuttered island house, then Ruth Kingley swam from the island to the shore with a wild tale of being held prisoner and then Kingley's body was found against a piling.

"Harp into Battle" by Cecil Maiden. Twelfth Century England and Wales provide the setting for this story of Llewellyn's fight against King John of England and the usurper, his half-brother, to regain his throne of Gwynedd.

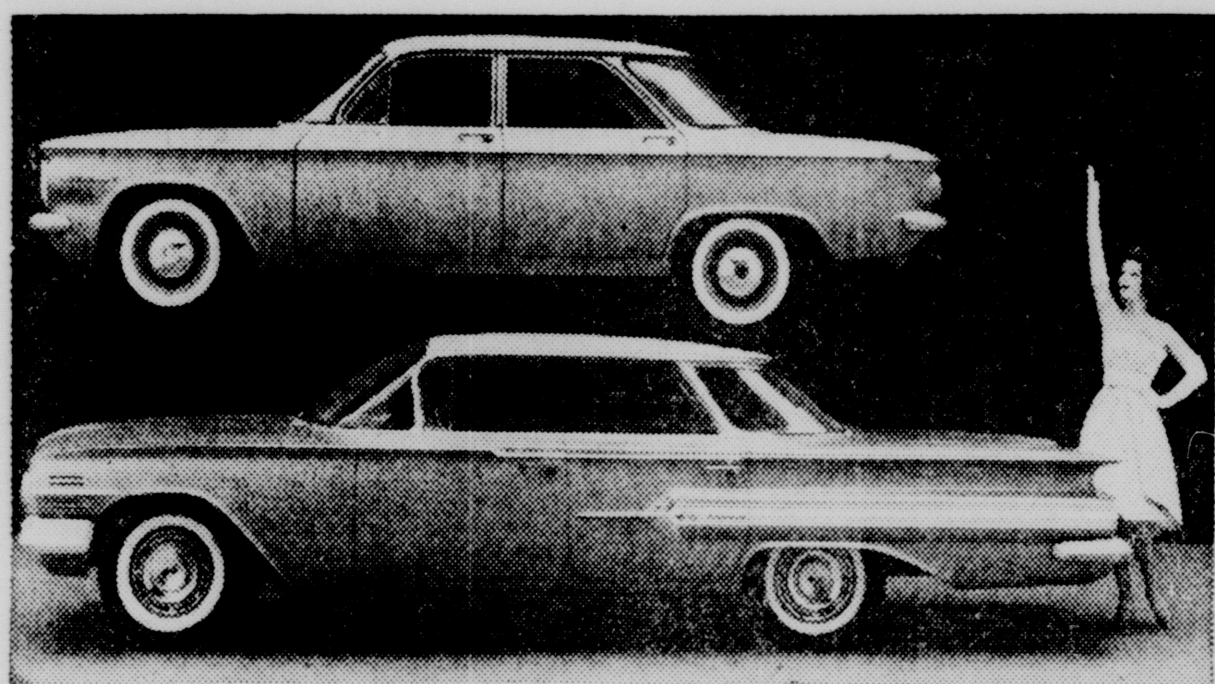

"Ode to a Young Love" by Basil Davidson. A lyric love, between the daughter of a greedy woman and the son of her mother's lover, ends in tragedy.

CONTRAST IN CHEVROLETS — A strong family resemblance between the all-new Corvair and Chevrolet's conventional line of passenger cars for 1960 is evident in this unusual profile view. At 180 inches, however, the Corvair is more than two and one-half feet shorter, while its 108-inch wheelbase compares with 119 on the Impala Sport Sedan with which it appears. Elegance and chassis refinements characterize the larger Chevrolets in an offering of 16 passenger models. The Corvair introduces an array of compact mechanical innovations designed to provide the riding and driving qualities demanded by the American buyer. The Corvair and conventional model will be in dealer showrooms Friday.

from John D., who established the Standard Oil empire, to his sons and grandsons, especially, Nelson who has been suggested as a possible candidate for the Presidency.

"Give Us the Tools" by Henry Viscardi, Jr. The author tells how he and four other disabled men formed Abilities, Inc., a business run solely by "unemployables" and how in seven years this enterprise grew from a small operation in a garage to a two million dollar a year enterprise.

"Senator Joe McCarthy" by R. H. Rovere. The author tells why the dynamic and defiant Senator from Wisconsin advanced from comparative obscurity to worldwide fame or infamy on his "watch-hunting" inquiries, and then fell even more rapidly than he had risen.

"Traveler's Guide to Europe's Art" by Jane Norman. Paintings, sculpture, and architecture, are covered for the tourist; what to see, when to see it, and how to see it. Art maps are included for Great Britain, the Continent and Scandinavia.

"The Great Imposter" by Robert Crichton. Ferdinand Demara made headlines by posing successfully as a Royal Canadian Naval officer in World War II, a doctor, a teacher, and a prison warden. "Penobscot" Down East Paradise" by Gorham Munso. A history and description of the Penobscot region of Maine—its colorful people, its famous events, its business, its flood of tourists, and the beauties of its mountains, rivers, islands and ocean front.

"Psychology of Religion" by Paul E. Johnson. A new edition of the author's work dealing with the psychological aspect of religion. The survey of various prevailing schools of thought has been brought up to date, and recent case studies have been added.

Pvt. Ronald D. Workman has been visiting relatives and friends in East Palestine since Sept. 20. He left Thursday for Fort Benning, Ga.

He enlisted in the paratroopers July 6 and received his basic training at Fort Knox, Ky.

NEW LEGAL HOLIDAY
COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Effective this week, laws passed by the Ohio General Assembly will make Columbus Day, Oct. 12, a legal holiday, enlarge the Pardon and Parole Commission from three to five members, and set up a Bureau of Probation and Parole in the Division of Correction. Another law effective Thursday will repeal the present unenforced ban against Sunday fishing.

Canton Sets Stiff Penalty For Drag Races

CANTON, Ohio (AP)—Stiff penalties against drag racers were approved by City Council Monday night.

The lawmakers approved by a 14-0 vote a joint report of the traffic and judiciary committees which sets a fine of up to $500 and a jail term of six months for drag racing.

Their action stemmed from a crash here Sept. 12 in which three members of a family were killed when their automobile was hit by two cars that police said were drag racing.

Rocco Serena, 60; his daughter-in-law, Mrs. Nancy Serena, 32, and his grandson, Ricky Serena, 8, was killed in the Sept. 12 crash.

The two drivers police said were responsible for the collision face three separate indictments for second-degree manslaughter, returned by the Stark County grand jury at the request of Prosecutor Norman J. Putnam. They also were given heavy penalties in Municipal Court on charges of drunk driving, speeding and reckless driving.

Perry Lodge to Fete J. Russell Moore

Perry Lodge No. 185, F & AM, will hold a meeting Saturday at 7:30 p.m. in the Masonic Temple to honor J. Russell Moore, who has completed a third term as district deputy grand master of the 24th Masonic District.

Masons and their wives from the 29 lodges in the 24th Masonic District are invited to attend.

Principal speaker of the evening will be John W. Barkley, past grand master of the Grand Lodge of Ohio. A short program will be included in the entertainment.

Following the meeting, a buffet lunch will be served in the dining room.

INDUSTRIALIST DIES

CLEVELAND (AP)—Harry A. McDonough, 66, a Cleveland industrialist who was instrumental in organizing several northern Ohio companies engaged in metal production and fabrication, died Monday in St. Vincent Charity Hospital. Among firms he helped organize are the Light Alloys Mfg. Co. of Painesville, the Basic Aluminum Castings Co. here and the Atlas Crankshaft Co. of Fostoria.

Communist Party Gives Statement On Mr. K's Trip

NEW YORK (AP)—The American Communist party's national secretary says Nikita Khrushchev's visit here started a thaw in the cold war, but that powerful groups in Washington want to keep things frozen up.

The Communist leader, Eugene Dennis, made the comment Monday on the Soviet Premier's visit to the United States.

Said Dennis in a statement: "The American people realize that there are powerful, sinister circles within our country—with in the administration, the State Department and the Pentagon, and within both the Republican and Democratic parties—who still cling tenaciously to monopoly's bankrupt 'positions of strength' policy, and who want to prevent the agreements reached at Camp David from bearing fruit."

Reilly PTA Plans Party for Parents

A parents' get-acquainted party was planned at the first regular meeting of Reilly School Parent-Teacher Association Monday evening in the school auditorium.

Kenneth Williams conducted the business meeting. The secretary and treasurer's reports were given by Mrs. Richard Herron and Mrs. Richard Franks respectively.

Kenneth Pelly, project chairman, announced the parents' party will be held in the near future.

The roving attendance flag was won by the kindergarten classes. Mrs. John Gerwing was the recipient of a year's subscription to the PTA magazine.

Marcus McElroy, superintendent of the Niles school system, gave a talk and showed slides of his recent trip to Russia.

Mrs. Gerald Koch, membership chairman, received 102 memberships at the meeting.

Following the program, refreshments were served by Mrs. Kenneth Pelley and her committee.

The next regular meeting will be Oct. 26.

Inside Labor By Victor Riesel

Walter Reuther flashed through the giant AFL-CIO convention with the brilliant flare of a moon. His target was to place himself in position to move into the presidency of the mass labor movement in the next two years. This would have made him one of the world's most influential men. He missed his target. He was shoved off course by the old-line AFL leadership who hate him. But Reuther is never one to go into orbit around anyone else.

He knows there are those, including the unchallengeable AFL-CIO President George Meany, who are saying that Walter Reuther never will be head of the 13-million member labor federation.

Private conversations reveal they are grooming another man to succeed Meany, when Meany wants to quit. He is the genial, silver haired, 59-year-old man of stature and statesmanship, Al J. Hayes, president of the truly powerful and sky-piercing Machinists and Equipment Makers Union.

HAYES IS NOT part of the stop-Reuther operation. But he permits himself to be groomed because he knows that AFL-CIO chief Meany is weary of the job, which is so tough that it is back-breaking even for his broad shoulders.

It is generally believed that someone will succeed Meany at the next constitutional convention. That will be in 1961.

Meany, nocturnal dabbler in oils and water colors, golfers, neostudent of world affairs, fascinated by international diplomacy and the challenge of the Soviets, no longer is in love with his job.

He wants just one more term. Then he will be 67. Some of the next two years he will spend tangling with the Russians in the U.N. as one of the American representatives. No Russian can outmatch him in toughness and rough-and-tumble in fighting debate.

This means more to his inner sense of grappling with conflict than sitting in his Washington headquarters right across from the White House and listening to two union chiefs, literally, argue about jurisdiction over 15 or 25 members in some tiny metal shop out in Big Goopie Roads.

FROM ONE of the men who has been closest to him for some 20 years comes word that Meany will get out in '61 unless one of two things should happen:

Unless his resignation to go into the diplomatic service or some other impactful project would remove the one welding force which keeps the old-line building and metal trades tied in one federation with the Reuther bloc. If Meany feels his departure would split the AFL-CIO, he would positively stay on.

Or if Meany sees that a terrific battle would follow over his successor, he would stay on.

He wants to make certain that the big labor federation he put together in 1955 doesn't fall apart or split in wide open battling six years later.

But he does want to step out, not only to meet some world challenge but because he has before him the visage of the late William Green, his predecessor.

As old Bill Green got older, he sort of dozed and ambled through the AFL presidency, losing influence, losing prestige, spending most of his time speaking at chicken and peas dinners and reading his talks out of a black note book.

Meany, now strong and healthy, wants none of this under any circumstances. So he has sought to build secondary leadership of the industrially and politically powerful labor federation.

Those close to Meany say he believes Reuther would be too controversial and couldn't hold the federation together. The same knowledgeable sources say that the man Meany believes can hold it together is Al Hayes.

IF THE AFL-CIO convention did not prove that Meany is grooming Hayes, then you can hit the moon with a rock.

Hayes was assigned virtually every important task. He was the official Many chose to head up the committee to raise at least 25 million dollars for the steel strike. Hayes was the leader selected to head the all-important committee assigned to work out a formula which would keep unions from warring on each other.

This was the most ticklish job of all.

Because of its technical nature, the public seldom realizes the terrific feuding which has gone on for decades when one union claims the work of another or the plant covered by another. Men have been bloodied, hundreds of millions of dollars have been lost by the public, employers and workers in strikes called by one union because an employer used members of another.

The chairman of a committee to work out a peace treaty after 70 years would have to be one trusted by all sides. That man is Al Hayes.

During the convention Hayes was chairman of the Resolutions subcommittee. On all domestic policy. He handled 19 resolutions. It takes skill to weave together the whims and policies of 125 national unions and over 900 delegates. And he has been chairman of the AFL-CIO Practices Committee, a group at best tolerated because of the anti-racket tumult of the moment.

The man who could walk through all this controversy unruffled and still be liked and respected is the man many believe is most likely to succeed George Meany despite the world prominence of Walter Reuther.

Bunker Hill

Members of the Bunker Hill Church attended the Leadership Training School last Tuesday and Wednesday at the Salem Methodist Church and will attend the final two courses on Tuesday and Wednesday of this week at 7:30 p.m.

The members of the Sujettes 4-H Club, along with their leaders, Mrs. David Kile, and Mrs. William Griffiths, and several parents went to Cleveland, Sunday where they enjoyed the Ice-Capades, 1959. The club recently held their final meeting of the year at the home of Nancy Hutcheson.

Terry Scott, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Scott, is confined to the Salem City Hospital for observation, after becoming ill Saturday at his home.

The Rev. Charles Stoneburner occupied the Bunker Hill Church pulpit Sunday. Mr. Stoneburner, newly elected Stuebenville District Superintendent, conducted the 1st Quarterly Conference Sunday afternoon at the Church.

The Rev. and Mrs. Charles Stoneburner were Sunday dinner guests of Rev. and Mrs. Ralph Fotia.

The members and guests of the Bunker Hill MYF enjoyed a hay-ride and weiner roast Sunday at the home of Miss Jeanine Cook.

Secretaries and officers of the Bunker Hill WSCS met Monday at the home of Mrs. C. Ray Stanley.

The Wesleyan Womens Group and their families will have a coverdinner dinner following the morning worship services Sunday.

A group of leaders from the Bunker Hill Church attended the District Quarterly Conference at Carrollton Wednesday. A business meeting and election of new officers was held, with the Rev. Charles Stoneburner in charge.

Check Baby's Overflow Teardrops Early

Two years or so ago, a colleague who specializes in disorders of the ear, nose and throat, phoned me about a condition in babies which he felt most important and which he said was commonly overlooked.

It happens that two recent letters on the same subject have come from mothers. One says: "Please explain why a baby's eyes would run as if it had a cold. The boy is four months old and has had this trouble since birth."

The other writes: "I have a daughter two and a half years old whose left eye runs water most of the time. It has been like this ever since she was a tiny baby and I would like to know if this is serious."

Both of these inquiries probably refer to the condition about which the specialist phoned me and which he later wrote me as follows:

"Occasionally, the mother of a newborn baby will notice a tear drop at the inner corner of one or both eyes. She is often told, 'Don't worry, let it alone, and it will get well without treatment.' Some do, but many do not."

"The overflow tears are carried from the eye through two tiny openings in the lid margins, close to the inner angle, to empty into a sac or pocket—the naso-lacrimal—at the upper inner angle of the eye. From this sac the tears pass down through a small channel in the bone to empty into the nose. Before birth, the lower end of this duct is closed by a delicate membrane; shortly before or after birth, the membrane breaks away and allows the tears to run freely.

"Unfortunately, sometimes the membrane fails to break, the tears fill up the sac, and the overflow runs down the face. If let alone, sooner or later the stagnant fluid will become infected; the discharge back into the eye will become sticky and finally becomes pus. By this time, the mucous lining of the sac is thick and swollen, and the passage through the bone into the nose is practically closed.

"If properly cared for in the first two or three weeks of life, a single simple treatment will usually stop all the trouble. But often the situation is allowed to run on; drops have no more effect on a duck's back.

Meantime, serious trouble is developing in the sac and duct that enters the nose, a condition that will often take weeks or months of skillful handling to correct. Indeed, in some the sac is so disorganized that it can never be restored to normal.

Dodgers Top Braves 6-5 for Flag; Furillo, Hodges Star

Williams Gets Win In Relief

Mantilla's Miscoe Gives L.A. Victory

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The champion Los Angeles Dodgers moved into Chicago today, ready to take on the White Sox for the world championship.

The Milwaukee Braves, shorn of their National League pennant, headed for their homes.

But the scene in Memorial Coliseum Tuesday as dusk settled was still a vivid memory to the 26,528 fans gathered in the place, and the thousands who watched on television.

Two of the great heroes of the Dodger old guard, first baseman Gil Hodges and outfielder Carl Furillo, were all but dismantled by their teammates as the battle came to its quick end in the 12th inning.

Hodges scored the winning run in the 6 to 5 victory on Furillo's hit back of second base, a tally made possible when Felix Mantilla threw wild to first base.

The entire Dodger team suddenly became one rolling, tangled mass of happy ballplayers.

Silently, in typical Indian single file procession, the Braves walked out of their dugout, down the long tunnel and into their dressing quarters.

They said not a word during the march, and very little as they showered, dressed and took off.

There was no champagne celebration in the Dodgers quarters. For one thing, liquor is barred from the city-owned Coliseum. For another, the team had less than three hours to take off for Chicago.

But there was a joyous interlude. Hodges poured a soft drink over the head of the winning pitcher, young Stan Williams. Then he got on the rubbing table to have his chronically sore leg massaged.

Manager Walt Alton, a soft-spoken, kindly sort of man, was speechless for moments but finally said: "At the moment, I can't think of much to say."

Presently Alton excused himself. He showed up, still in uniform and spiked shoes, in the Brave dressing room to shake hands with Brave manager Fred Haney.

"You came from behind to win and you deserved it," sportsman Haney declared. "Now go after the White Sox."

Buckeyes Depart For 1st Night Game

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Ohio State's football team leaves this afternoon for Los Angeles and the first night game in its history.

The 38-man traveling squad for Friday's game with Southern California is scheduled for a short scrimmage before takeoff time.

Tuesday, a quarterback Jerry Fields returned to action following a chest injury last Saturday.

Coach Woody Hayes was not too satisfied with Tuesday's drill. He said the teams blocking form on punt protection was not good. Duke blocked a Buckeye punt last week.

Mary Jane Clark Is Winner at Lebanon

LEBANON, Ohio (AP) — Marion Stephens, veteran driver, rallied Mary Jane Clark to win the featured trot at Lebanon Raceway Tuesday night — by a nose.

The winner's 2:05 3-5 circuit was the best mile ever for the 11-year-old mare. Mary Jane Clark fought off challenges in the stretch by second - finisher Pro Mack and third-place Proterra. She paid $10.40.

Lucky Star and Mr. Jerry produced a daily double of $19.80.

The crowd was 1,923 and betting totaled $39,801 at the mutuels.

Frank Ervin, 55, of Pekin, Ill., won the Hambletonian on his 10th attempt when he triumphed with Diller Hanover in the 1959 trot.

Bulldogs After 14th Straight Win

E. Palestine, Lisbon, Minerva Favored In Tri-County Tilts

East Palestine, Lisbon, Louisville, and Minerva will be in favored roles this weekend as the eight Tri-County opponents square off against each other in league battles.

Defending champion East Palestine will be going after its 14th straight victory at Leetonia Friday. The Bulldogs, who have won the league title each year since 1956, will be a heavy favorite to dump Leetonia. The Bears were humiliated 44-8 last week at Louisville while East Palestine was thumping Sebring 54-12.

Louisville should have another easy time Friday at Sebring. The Trojans have dropped two in a row this year, including one loss to non-league foe Newton Falls. Minerva, who put up such a strong fight in losing 14-6 to a rugged Lisbon eleven last week, figures to have too much for Coach George Fisher's small Columbian team.

The Lions are on the comeback in football under new coach Glenn Sutherin. Their opening victory over Sandy Valley two weeks ago broke a drought which started after they edged Leetonia 14-13 early in 1957.

After their scare with Minerva last week, Lisbon figures to bounce back Saturday at Poland and hand the Bulldogs their first league setback.

Trojans Boast Ace Passer

Canton Timken to Test Quakers' Air Defense

By DICK BRAUTIGAM

Canton Timken, Salem High's football opponent Friday night at Reilly Stadium, promises to give the Quakers a thorough test in a department in which two previous foes failed to offer much of a challenge.

The Trojans, boasting a quarterback whom Canton sportswriters have tabbed the best passer in the city, can be expected to fill the airways with the pigskin here Friday.

Cleveland Lincoln and Ravenna combined passed a total of only 13 times against the Quakers. Timken is likely to surpass that number in the first half at Reilly Stadium.

Canton's highly touted flinger is Dave Perry, 131-pound senior. He threw the ball 24 times in Timken's opener at Fawcett Stadium against Painesville Harvey, completing six for 180 yards and one touchdown.

PERRY REALLY opened up last week against New Philadelphia, passing for three touchdowns of nine, 20 and 40 yards.

Timken split even in its two previous contests. Rugged Painesville Harvey made the Trojans their 18th consecutive victim over a three-year period by a 22-8 score. Last week New Philadelphia felt the sting of the Trojans, being snowed under 40-0. Both games were played at Fawcett Stadium in Canton.

Against Painesville, Perry's passing was the only thing that kept the Trojans in the game. Their backs were held to a minus eight yards rushing.

The two teams battled to a scoreless tie in the first half. Painesville exploded for all three of its touchdowns in the third quarter, the first three times it got its hands on the ball.

ALL THE DAMAGE came in just three minutes. All three markers came on runs through or just outside the tackles. A Timken fumble contributed heavily to the three-minute disaster.

Timken found a running attack to go with the passing in the New Philadelphia game. Halfback Roger Peterson, 146-pound junior, scored three touchdowns. Two on runs of one yard and another on a 14-yard scamper.

Peterson also accounted for Timken's only touchdown against Painesville. He took a short pass from Perry and sprinted 31 yards for the score. Peterson's 24 points makes him the second leading scorer in greater Canton.

Timken has another highly rated runner in fullback John Namciu, 188-pound senior. He was the workhorse in the New Philadelphia victory.

NAMCIU MISSED the Painesville game. He was recuperating from an operation. The football and basketball star gives the Trojans a threat up the middle, something that was sorely missed in the opener.

Only two players who were on last year's team which lost to Salem 21-0 are back as starters this season. They are end Joe Lee, 155-pound senior, and center Dick Mikes, 180-pound senior.

Other probable starters Friday for Coach Don Risaliti's Trojans are end Leonard Miller, 140-pound senior; tackle Joe Bossert, 195-pound senior; tackle Dave Hartwick, 187-pound senior; guard Phil Benne-lich, 165-pound senior; guard Gordon Hartel, 145-pound senior; and halfback Dave Goebel, 145-pound senior.

END LEE is Perry's number one passing target, but the talent-

LSU Is Picked To Top Baylor Texas Over Cal In TV Contest

NEW YORK (AP)—Every year the college football fathers change the rules of the game but they never make it easier to pick the winners. Here's another swing around the circuit:

Louisiana State over Baylor: You gotta pick LSU because it has Billy Cannon. Baylor's best bet is Ronnie Bull, sophomore quarterback. But it could be very close.

Iowa over Northwestern: Each met a name foe last week and each romped to an easy victory. The Hawkeyes keep their momentum in a rugged fray.

Mississippi over Memphis State: Who's that again Memphis State? Army over Illinois: Lonely end Bill Carpenter and backs Joe Caldwell and Bob Anderson give the Cadets the edge.

Clemson over Georgia Tech: The Carolina Tigers get revenge for that 13-0 setback of a year ago. Purdue over Notre Dame: There are 24 returning lettermen on the Big Ten squad.

Tennessee over Mississippi State: Having stopped Auburn's winning streak, the Vols are determined to go all the way.

Texas over California: You can see this one for yourself on TV. That Texas line makes things easy for the Longhorn backs.

Ohio State over Southern California: Bob White, the Buckeye fullback, makes this venture safe as money in the bank.

Wisconsin over Marquette: The Badgers in a breeze.

South Carolina over Georgia: The Carolina defense stops Charley Britt & Co., but not by the margin of 10 points as a year ago.

Navy over Southern Methodist: Joe Tranchini outpaces Don Meredith.

Syracuse over Maryland: Supposedly Syracuse was so good it didn't need a quarterback but coach Ben Schwartzwalder unfurled Dave Serette, a sophomore in last week's triumph over Nebraska.

Penn State over Colgate: Richie Lucas is as good as they come at quarterback.

Michigan State's soccer team entered the 1959 campaign with a 22-game unbeaten streak stretching over three seasons.

Craig Gets 1st Dodgers' Call

Series to Begin In Chicago Tomorrow

CHICAGO (AP) — The Los Angeles Dodgers and the Chicago White Sox, two clubs who have to scrap for what they get, finally open what might be the richest World Series in history here Thursday at Comiskey Park.

Manager Walt Alton, his Dodgers riding high after beating Milwaukee in the National League pennant playoff, said his first game pitcher will be Roger Craig (11-5), an almost forgotten right-hander who became a ace in the drive for the flag.

White Sox Manager Al Lopez is expected to name Early Wynn, at 39 the Old Man right-hander who topped the major with 22 victories and was the American League's only 20-game winner.

The oddsmakers favor the White Sox, playing in a World Series for the first time in 40 years, at 11-10 for both the series and the first game.

The first two games will be played in Comiskey Park with the best-of-seven championship then shifting to the Coliseum in Los Angeles for the third, fourth and, if necessary, fifth games. If needed, the sixth and seventh games will be played in Chicago, with a day of travel interrupting play when the club shift parks.

It's the massive Coliseum, seating some 94,000 for baseball, which could make this the richest series. Comiskey Park seat $6.50.

Alls game will start at 1 p.m. local time and will be telecast and broadcast nationally by NBC.

The bookmakers have made the White Sox favorites because of their three days of rest since Sunday's close of the American League season. That layoff, however, may have cooled off the Sox, while the Dodgers could still be riding the kick of having won eight of their last 10 games.

The Dodgers, first club ever to win an NL pennant after finishing seventh the year before, jumped into Comiskey Park for a workout today. They boarded a flight from Los Angeles a few hours after eliminating the defending champion Braves two straight in the best of three playoff with Tuesday's 6-5, 12-inning victory.

Lopez, meanwhile, sent his White Sox through an intra-quadrant game Tuesday, hoping to keep 'em sharp.

The one-day delay in the series opener caused by the NL playoff probably did the Sox' walking injured — outfielder Jim Landis (injured leg) and catcher Sherm Lollar (bruised hand) — some good. But it may not prove a benefit to Wynn. The Old Man, top winner among major league pitchers still at it (27), has worked best with three days rest.

He'll have four days of rest for the opening assignment.

While the Dodgers number quite a few holdovers from previous series squads, the White Sox have but four — first baseman Earl Torgeson, with the 1948 Braves; outfielder Al Smith and Wynn, with the 1954 Cleveland Indians; and Lollar, with the 1947 New York Yankees.

Only Lollar was with a winner, and it was the Dodgers whom the Yankees beat, in even games.

Lopez, incidentally, managed the Indians of '54 — and lost the series in four straight games to the Giants.

This is the fifth White Sox team to win a pennant, but only the fourth to play in a World Series. The 1901 club won the first AL race, but the World Series wasn't born until 1903. The Hitless Wonders of 1906 won the series from Chicago's Cubs and the 1917 team beat the New York Giants.

Then came the infamous Black Sox and the rigged 1919 series with Cincinnati.

Michigan State's soccer team entered the 1959 campaign with a 22-game unbeaten streak stretching over three seasons.

Greenford Host to United Local

All 10 Inter-County League Teams Scheduled for Action Over Weekend

All 10 Inter - County League teams will be in action this weekend with four league games and two independent frays on tap.

Greenford, who shares the league lead with Canfield and Lowellville, plays host to non-league foe United Local Saturday. The Bobcats will be heavy favorites with explosive Merlyn Bush at quarterback. United will be looking for its first score in three games.

Goshen is the other school playing a non-league opponent this week. The Gophers will be looking for their first victory of the season Saturday at Sebring against Sandusky St. Mary.

Defending champion Canfield should roll to its third consecutive league win at home against Springfield Local Saturday. North Lima is favored to hand Fairfield-Waterfield its third trouncing of the young season at New Waterford.

Hapless Western Reserve, who has given up 100 points in two games, is in for another pasting Saturday at Lowellville against the unbeaten Rockets. Lowellville is the only team in the league unscored upon this year after two games.

In the only Friday night encounter in the Inter-County League, Jackson-Milton is an underdog to host McDonald. McDonald is 1-1 for the season and 1-0 in league play. Jackson-Milton has dropped two straight contests.

OUT OF DOORS with Field & Stream

By RUFUS LIDE

Sometimes it looks like the fishermen who "have not" will have to show the fishermen who have plenty how to catch fish.

Pennsylvania anglers have been taking home bass up to four pounds six ounces at Lake Guilford within the past week.

To explain the "have nots," residents of Pennsylvania living just across the Ohio border tell me they have no place to fish within easy driving distance. Therefore, they are content to fish at Lake Guilford and really appreciate the lake because they catch bass there.

Most of our local anglers have finished with their fishing and stowed their fishing equipment among the moth balls for the season. I have a right to say this because very few anglers are in evidence on our local lakes and streams.

Actually, you can get better fishing now than was possible during the hot weather of July and August. Night crawlers seem to be the best bait to use at Guilford at present, according to the reports I have from the Pennsylvania fishermen.

Bullhead catfish are also biting at Guilford. Many people prefer bullheads for table use because they are less bony than scale fish. They are also good eating and easier to catch. Night crawlers are being used to take bass and bullheads at present.

Recently 12,200 channel catfish fingerlings were received from the Federal U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service and stocked in LAKE Guilford.

Catching channel cats at Guilford is more of an exception than the rule. Very few are taken by the anglers. One has shown up occasionally in the test nets.

The record channel cat taken at Lake Guilford by John Galchick of Salem has been recognized by the "King of Fishermen" contest, sponsored by the Cleveland Press and certified by the Outdoor Writers of Ohio. Galchick's catch was

Dartrtown Celebrates Victory by Dodgers

DARTTOWN, Ohio (AP)—This is a quiet country town, population 200, but the calm was shattered suddenly Tuesday night.

There were explosions, guns were fired, auto horns blew and the whole town knew favorite son Walt Alton and his Los Angeles Dodgers had won the National League playoff for the pennant.

And at Alton's home, the manager's wife and friends had been quietly watching the television version of the Dodgers' 6-5 overtime defeat of Milwaukee.

"As soon as the game was over," Mrs. Alton said, "I guess everyone knew Dartrtown was on the map."

Aqueduct race track, 12 miles from New York City, is the most expensive sports structure in the nation. It cost $3 million dollars.

Bob Benton, Mississippi's junior tackle from East St. Louis, Mo., wears a size 21 collar.

Fall Ideal Lawn-Building Time

By ALLAN SWENSON
(Written for NEA Service)

Fall is nature's seeding time. It's the best time to work on your lawn.

A rich, green lawn is your best landscaping asset. With reasonable care you can develop a beautiful lawn that will last many years.

To build a new lawn or renovate badly worn grass, dig in now with these points in mind:

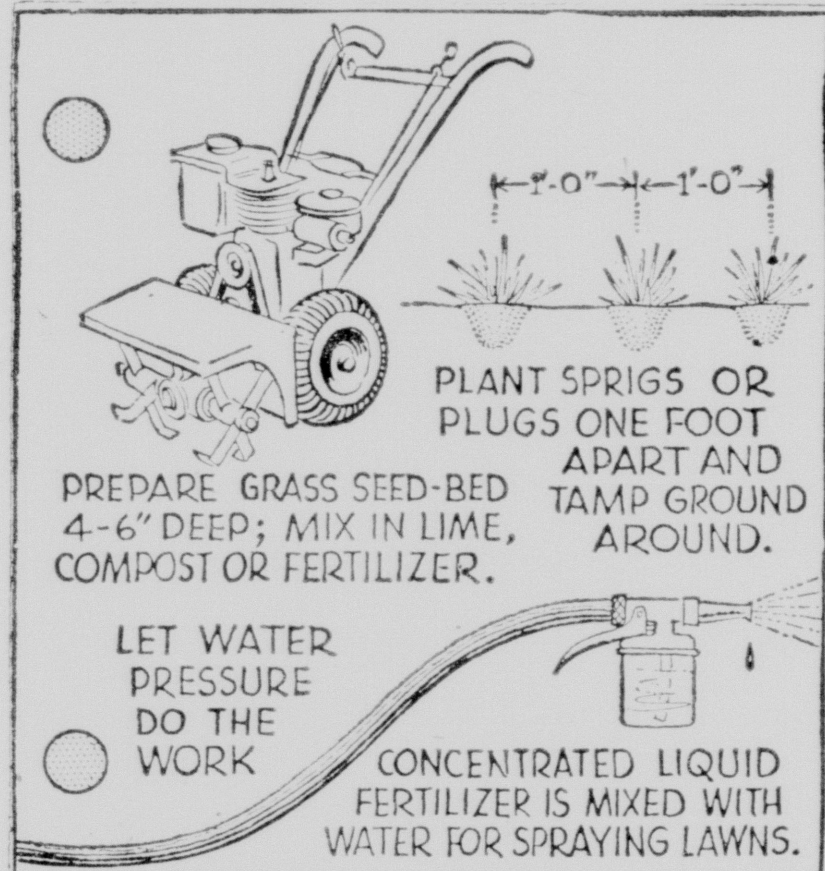

LAWNS LIKE LIME. A soil test tells how much. About 40 pounds of hydrated lime or 70 pounds of ground limestone per 1,000 square feet usually is needed.

Lime, compost and manure or fertilizer can all be worked into the top four to six inches of seed-bed soil with a rotary tiller or a plow. Complete fertilizer with a 5-10-5, 8-8-8, or 10-6-4 or similar analysis should be used; 25 to 50 pounds per 1,000 square feet. Less is needed as the analysis figures increase.

An attractive lawn boosts your property value, real estate experts point out. But your lawn will be only as good as the seed or plugs you plant. Quality seed costs only pennies more, but gives far greater value in results.

Choose grass best suited to your soil and climate. Bluegrasses, bentgrasses and fescues are cool-season types that grow from seed. Zoysias are new and do well in mid-south regions. Bermuda, St. Augustine, centipede and carpet grass are suited to warmer climates. Ask your local garden supplier which varieties do best in your area.

SPREAD EVENLY the amount of seed indicated for the variety or mixture. Sprigs and plugs can be one foot apart. Roll or firm the soil after seeding. Tamp plugs and sprigs down too.

Soak the top two inches of soil. Then sprinkle daily for at least three weeks to hasten germination. Mowing at least two inches high promotes good growth and builds thicker turf.

Fall-planted grass enjoys several months of growth before weed competition begins in the spring. Your best weed control is a healthy, heavy turf. Proper fertilizing will maintain it.

Recently developed urea-form with dry herbicides, feeding and weeding is one easy application.

LIQUID FERTILIZING is gaining popularity. Spray attachments fit right on your garden hose. Water pressure creates a siphon action to apply non-burning liquid fertilizer with the water.

Chemicals for lawn insect and disease control can be easily applied this way, too.

Crab grass and broadleaved weeds are more easily killed by chemicals in the spring. But if you concentrate your efforts on developing a healthy, thicker turf now, your weed battle will be almost won.

60 Attend Leetonia Eastern Star Meeting

LEETONIA — Sixty were in attendance for the observance of Friendship Night at the special meeting of Leetonia Chapter, Order of the Eastern Star.

Recognition was given to Vera I. Thomas, worthy matron, Leland W. Crouse, worthy patron, and their officers and members of the guest Esther Chapter of Minerva. Mrs. Harry Lundgren, district deputy of Columbiana, also was honored.

Mrs. Ethel Llewellyn, worthy matron, announced the following program: Trumpet solo by Ricky Smith; trio, Tommy Eastek, Karen Llewellyn and Ricky Sabatka, "I've Got a Pain in My Sawdust," accompanied by Mrs. Merle Davis. Mr. Harry Lundgren showed colored slides of a western trip taken by his wife and son recently. Lunch was served by Mrs. Harry Roller and her committee.

MRS. STELLA JOHNSON will entertain the Priscilla Club of St. Paul's Lutheran Church in the church parlor Thursday evening.

The Deborah Class of St. Paul's Lutheran Church will hold a "Women Only" meeting this evening at the church. A cancer-detection movie will be presented by Nurses Jane Jolly of East Liverpool and Sybil Degnan of Leetonia. The committee is Margaret Hall, Eileen Hall, Vera Horst and Faye Kress. Women who are not members of the class are invited.

Mrs. Twila Bykowski, Mrs. Mayme Vogel and Mrs. Louise Koenick of Pittsburgh were recent visitors of Mrs. Olive Hughes.

William Kennedy of Pittsburgh spent Sunday with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Kennedy.

Intermediate MYF will meet in the youth room of the Methodist Church Thursday evening at 6:30. Senior MYF will meet at 7:30 p.m.

Typhoon Vera Worst Storm In Japan History

TOKYO (AP)—Typhoon Vera today was classed officially as the worst storm disaster in Japanese history.

The official toll of known dead reached 3,174. The previous high — 3,066 killed — was recorded after Typhoon Muroto in 1934.

In addition, 1,776 persons are still missing, and police said all casualty figures might be increased when full communications areas.

So far, 9,419 injured have been reported. They included three Americans, the only U.S. casualties reported.

Vera smashed into thickly populated central Japan Saturday night with 160-mile winds.

Trinity Youth Group Plans Future Events

The fall meetings of the Luther League of Holy Trinity English Lutheran Church were outlined when the Youth Council met Sunday evening at the home of the pastor, the Rev. George D. Keister of S. Union Ave. Eighteen members were present.

"To Cheat or Not to Cheat" is the topic for Sunday evening's meeting, with Mary Lou Anderson and Marjorie Hiltbrand as leaders.

The Tru-Mah-Col Luther League Federation will meet Oct. 11 at Zion Lutheran Church in New Middletown, with registration to begin at 2:30 p.m. The program will be in the form of a debate on "Be it Resolved that the Luther League Organization be Abolished."

Leaders for the Oct. 25 meeting are Dale Schaefer and Gerald Fox.

A forum discussion on the topic, "Teen-age Problems," will be presented at the Nov. 8 meeting. The panel members will be Fred Koenrich Jr., Gordy Scullion, Judy Darnier, Joyce Halverstadt and Don Wukotich.

Tom Dahms and Larry Shaffer are leaders for the Nov. 22 meeting. The refreshment committee for November is comprised of Car-

STRIKE ENDS

MEDINA, Ohio (AP)—A three-week strike at the Wadsworth (Ohio) Foundry Co. ended Tuesday with the signing of a new three-year contract between the company and Local 10, International Molders and Foundry Workers Union. The pact includes a 25-cents-an-hour package deal with wage increase retroactive to Sept. 1. It covers about 145 workers.

500 WALK OUT

AKRON, Ohio (AP)—A total of 500 workers at the General Tire & Rubber Co. here have walked off their jobs over a rate dispute, a company spokesman reported Tuesday night. Officials of the United Rubber Workers Union were urging the men to return to work.

Five-Day Forecast

Temperatures will average 3 to 7 degrees below normal. Normal high 70 north, 74 south. Normal low 50 north, 52 south. Continued cool with only minor day-to-day changes. Rainfall will average one half to one inch in showers today, tonight and again Sunday or Monday.

PRISONERS IN COOLER

PUEBLO, Colo. (AP)—Prisoners in the city jail really were in the cooler Tuesday. Power failures caused by a snowstorm left the jail without heat.

Overcoats were furnished to prisoners as the temperature hovered around 33 degrees.

Parental Problem

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — Every minor's parent has a major problem.

Parenthood is so sudden — at least from the father's viewpoint. One moment life is just a wild, wild shared snuff of the rosebud or lilac bush, a whisper together in summer under a tawny moon. So it is to him.

Then—bingo. A husband is a father. There is posterity. This is what comes from marriage.

It is bad enough when the nurse calls you to a hospital window and points at a bundle of blob and says, "You belong to it."

The blob grows older—in public—and squirms. It is yours and you cannot ask for a new deal.

You try to be blasé about it. It haunts you like a bright shadow. You know you have to feed it, but every time you feed it, it gets even bigger.

By the time you get used to calling it by its first name, it quits crawling and starts lolly-gagging around the place on its own two feet as if it owned the place.

Then it goes to nursery school, and when you ask it what you're getting for your money it sucks its thumb, which it did before it went to nursery school.

Next it goes to kindergarten and is the class of the crowd. If you just say "Hello" to it, well it starts declaiming:

"The little toy dog is covered with dust

"But sturdy and staunch it stands."

Until now it—your offspring—is only going by memory. Then you send it to the first grade. That is the big mistake.

A child starts going to first grade at midnight before the opening day. It dreams nightmares. At dawn it is like a tiger. You cannot hold it back.

The second day and every day after that it is like a pretzel. It has to be bent into its pants, its sweater and each shoe, one after the other.

Meanwhile, the thing claims it has learned to read.

"The cat saw the rat," it leers.

"And the dog saw the cat." Then it hands you a copy of "War and Peace" by Tolstoi and demands, "Tell me the rest of the story."

Triumphantly it lolls back in your arms like so much melted butter, as you try to stuff it into its clothing so that it can face new victories in the first grade.

And it has to get there on time, though all else in the world end. This is the desperate major problem of a parent of a minor in our time.

"The cat saw the rat," it leers again. "And the dog saw the cat." The echoing bus bears it away. And it's on a round trip.

"The little toy dog is covered

Book on Food Published By Agriculture Dept.

LISBON — A book packed with information on how to eat better and cheaper has been published by the United States Department of Agriculture. Earl Lora, manager of the Agriculture Stabilization and Conservation office here, reports.

The title is "Food, the 1959 Yearbook of Agriculture."

Its 736 pages tell much of what 72 nutrition experts know about weight control, food energy, vitamins, proteins, amino acids, fats, carbohydrates, calories, minerals, quality in food, costs, fads, habits and nutrition programs, Lora said.

Most of the contributors to the book are holders of doctor's degrees, deans of colleges, and top-level administrators, he said.

Copies can be bought at $2.25 each from the Superintendent of Documents, Washington 25, D.C.

CRASH IS FATAL

PAINESVILLE, Ohio (AP) — George L. Petrie, 54, of Erie, Pa. was killed Tuesday when his trailer truck crashed into the rear of another truck on U.S. 20 near here. The other driver escaped injury.

2 DIE IN CRASH

LIMA, Ohio (AP)—A collision between a farm tractor and a trailer-truck killed two men on U.S. 25 near U.S. 30-S Tuesday. Dead are C. V. Ruhlen, 48, and Mike Kalis, about 62, both of Lima. Driver of the truck was not injured.

Sebring Queen Contestants

Karen Ryerson

Peggy Jackson

Connie Weizenecker

Janet Yagello

Joyce Myler

Highlight of the football game between Sebring and Louisville on Friday at Sebring will be the crowning of the homecoming queen for 1959. The crowning will take place at 7:15 p.m. The queen will be announced by John Chick, band leader.

Five senior girls were chosen by student balloting from 14 candidates: Karen Ryerson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ross Ryerson of Sebring; Connie Weizenecker, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Weizenecker of Beloit; Peggy Jackson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs.

George Jackson of Sebring; Janet Yagello, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bohdin Yagello of Sebring; and Joyce Myler, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Myler of Sebring.

The girls will be driven to the game in convertibles and escorted onto the football field by members of the team. The queen will be crowned by the captain of the team, Joseph McAber, son of Mr. and Mrs. John McAber of Beloit. The other four girls will serve as attendants.

A homecoming dance will be held following the game in honor of the queen and her court.

Bricker, Georgiana Wukotich, Sally Bailey, Diane Scullion and Sally Costlow.

The Dec. 6 leaders are Karen

Wachsmith and Karl Fieldhouse. The annual Christmas party and caroling for the shut-ins is planned for Dec. 20.

Meander VFW Post Attends Meetings

Several members from the Meander Veterans of Foreign Wars Post and Auxiliary attended the Eighth District meeting held recently at Cuyahoga Falls.

Ten members of the Auxiliary attended the September Mahoning County Council casserole dinner and meeting held at Struthers. It also served as host at this event. The October Council meeting will be held at Sebring on Thursday.

Oct. 29 at Ellsworth School the post is sponsoring its annual Community Halloween party and costume judging.

Beginning Thursday members may pay their 1960 dues. Membership chairman Dorothy Brown is conducting a membership contest, and will award a prize to the member recruiting the most new members. This contest closes on Dec. 31.

Cancer Chairman Elaine Young has earned enough funds that a check for $1 per member was sent to the Department of Ohio Cancer fund.

A card party, proceeds from which will be used for Community Service work under the chairmanship of Patty Baytos, will be held Oct. 7.

Former Production Chief of U.S. Dies

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Funeral services for Donald M. Nelson, U.S. production chief during World War II, will be held at 1 p.m. Friday in the Church of the Hills at Forest Lawn-Hollywood Hills Memorial Park.

Nelson, 70, died in Good Samaritan Hospital Tuesday of a cerebral hemorrhage. He had been under treatment since a stroke Aug. 23.

PURCHASE APPROVED

CLEVELAND (AP) — Richman Brothers Co. stockholders have approved the clothing firm's acquisition of Stein's Stores, Inc. More than 99 per cent of 626,907 shares of Richman stock represented at a special meeting Tuesday was voted in approval of the transaction. The 91-store Stein chain is valued at about 10 million dollars.
